Raising awareness

The screenshot shows the Isle of Wight Radio website. At the top, it says "THE ISLAND'S FAVOURITE" and "isleofwightradio". There is a "LISTEN LIVE" button. Below that, there are navigation links: "On Air", "Win", "News", "Best in Business Directory", "Hidden", "More", and "Contact". A large banner for the "FANTASY FOOTBALL LEAGUE" is featured, sponsored by "isleofwightradio" and "Deltron Lifts Coastal". It includes a "JOIN HERE!" button and images of football kits. Below the banner, a headline reads: "£10M COMMUNITY DIAGNOSTIC CENTRE TO PROVIDE FIRST CLASS CARE AT ST MARY'S". There are social media icons and a date: "Monday, March 20th, 2023 6:00am". At the bottom, there is a photo of the new diagnostic centre building with the text: "Islanders will have better access to tests and treatment thanks to a new £10m Community Diagnostic Centre (CDC) at St Mary's Hospital. The new centre will significantly expand diagnostic capacity on the Island meaning faster access and earlier..."

The screenshot shows a BBC News article. The headline is "Isle of Wight hospital introduces buggy patient transport service". The article text says: "An Isle of Wight hospital has come up with a solution for patients struggling to walk long distances. St Mary's Hospital introduced a buggy patient transport service a month ago, after finding patients getting into difficulty trying to reach the respiratory and cardiac wards." There is a video player showing a person using a patient transport buggy in a hospital hallway. To the right, there is an "Explore more" section with three video thumbnails: "Extraordinary Portraits of NHS heroes", "Chaplain offering spiritual support in hospital", and "I've delivered over 200 babies".

The screenshot shows an article from "ON THE WIGHT". The headline is "Isle of Wight NHS Trust provides seamless care for heart attack patient". The article text says: "Murray Clark, a community first responder, praises seamless and faultless care from St Mary's Hospital and Queen Alexandra Hospital (Portsmouth) after surviving a heart attack." There is a photo of Murray Clark standing in front of a building with the NHS logo. The date is "Wednesday, 15th February, 2023 3:33pm" and the author is "By Isle of Wight NHS Trust".

The screenshot shows a County Press article. The headline is "Isle of Wight hospital and NHS building work update". The article text says: "Building work progresses at St Mary's Hospital's new £12.2million emergency care floor. (Image: IW NHS.)" There is a photo collage showing the progress of building work at St Mary's Hospital from January 2023 to August 2023. To the right, there is an advertisement for "love LOCAL business" with the text: "Need to reach local customers? Claim your free listing." Below the article, there is a byline: "By Lucy Morgan, Co-editor" and "3 Comments".

Looking ahead
